React Native Developer

<https://www.logisticinfotech.com/>

As a React Native Developer at Logistic Infotech, I contributed to the development and enhancement of a live application, focusing on building and optimizing features to improve user experience. I worked closely with the team to implement various functionalities, manage state efficiently, and ensure smooth navigation throughout the app. I collaborated on integrating third-party libraries to extend the app's capabilities and helped streamline the application's performance through effective state management and component design. My role also involved ensuring seamless data management and enhancing the overall responsiveness of the application.

Tech Stack:

Redux , React Navigation , Hooks , Function Components , Styled Components , Axios , React Animation , AsyncStorage , Third-party libraries
